PRINTERS AND SIGNS

the printed word captures the imagination like no other form of communication

Where it all began

The story of Levenmouth Printers all began back in 1976 when a young, 16 year old Craig Lumsden was looking to leave school and find himself an apprenticeship.

His Grandfather happened to be passing J & G Innes Print works and saw an advert in the window looking for an apprentice. Craig jumped at the opportunity, went for the interview and secured his future in the printing industry. Craig served his apprenticeship with Innes's while attending Duncan of Jordanstone College in Dundee where he qualified and achieved the City and Guilds in Printing.

He then moved on where he met and worked with Robert Crail and Bill Arnott. The trio decided that with their combined skills and experience, they could join forces and set up on their own. Levenmouth Printers was born.

“We are one big family here.”

In 1983 the three friends formed the company after begging and borrowing from relatives. Wives and families all got involved and Craig and Shona, only in their early twenties with two small children put everything into making the dream happen and with hard work, long hours and diligence, it paid off and allowed the small team to take on extra staff.

“We have been lucky enough to have had an amazing team of workers with us on our journey. Many who are still here with us today. I think our customers appreciate how helpful and friendly the staff all are. We are one big family here and they are truly a credit to us. Without everyone coming together and putting in the effort, we simply would not be where we are today.” – Craig

The business has evolved over the years and after moving to bigger premises in Buckhaven, now operates a successful signage department as well. “ We invested in new machinery which allows us to print wide format signs, vinyls and posters. The signage side of business has really grown over the last few years and has been very successful. “

They also invested in a brand new computer to plate system which allows quick and easy plate making and was a welcomed addition to the list of high tech machinery.

Together, Craig and Shona have continued to run the business with a dedicated team behind them.
